Discover Montréal's DNA while connecting with its many neighbourhoods, history, urban rich flavours and colours

The leaves that change colour in autumn are an urban spectacle that we never get tired of. With its many parks and observation points such as the Belveder Kondiaronk, Montreal allows you to observe the fall symphony up close. In addition, urban art is an integral part of Montréal's identity, thanks to the creations of intrepid artists who have left their mark on our facades. Colors are also combined with flavors! Discover the typical neighbourhoods through their culinary attractions and Montreal gastronomy. From the east of Old Montreal to Little Italy you will browse cafes, pastry shops, restaurants and other gourmet addresses including the new version of the famous Olympico café and the Old Montreal distillery where you can taste local creations based on gin and whisky. Enjoy a relaxing moment at the outdoor markets where you will also have the chance to live a local experience.
